OR

Translate the following paragraph into Hindi or Marathi:

The environmental problem is not the problem of an individual on that of one country. It is a global problem and it can be tackled only with the assistance and co-operation of all. Principle 9 of Rio Declaration provides that the states should co operate to strengthen indigenous capacity-building for sustainable development by improving scientific understanding through exchanges of scientific and technological knowledge and by enhancing the development, adaptation, diffusion and transfer of technologies including new and innovative technologies.
