Once a small boy walked away into distant field. He was seen and chased by a wolf. The boy ran as fast as he could, but he was soon overtaken by the wolf. When he found that there was no chance to escape, he turned around and said, "I cannot escape and will soon be eaten by you. But I would like to die as pleasantly as possible. So please play me a tune and let me have a last dance before you kill me." The wolf agreed & played a tune on the pipe & the boy danced merrily up and down the field. The result was that the noise of the pipe attracted the dogs from the farms nearby. They rushed up and drove the wolf away. As the wolf escaped into the forest he said, "This is the result of meddling with things that do not concern one. My business was that of a butcher and not that of a piper."
