We are governed by democratic set up of constitution. There is equal protection of law and equality before law as enshrined in our constitution. Our law secures equal justice for all in their private disputes. In our public opinion we welcome and honour talent in every branch of achievement as we give free play in all our public life. We carry the same spirit into our daily relation with one another. We have no angry words for our neighbor. If he enjoy himself in his own way we abstain from the little acts of childishness through which they leave no mark. However public interaction is controlled by law. Constitution provides protection to oppressed and does not permit transgression of any kind.
