Moot Court Practices are the lifelines of the students at NLC and to encourage the academic pursuits of law students, the MCS provides practical trial experiences and the real court room feel to the students.

Our technology is changing the legal profession and law schools in India; NLC has taken into aspect the new technologies and has established AI Cell to look upon the latest awareness from the legal point of view. NLC aims to blend the theoretical and practical learning of law by launching an initiative named as 'GIADRA' – (Global Initiative for Alternate Dispute Resolution Awareness) under its Madhysthta- the ADR Cell. It aims to synergizing the knowledge of ADR professionals across the globe and making it easily accessible to the students in the form of blogs and videos. The College has established SARALL (Society for Advanced Research & Analysis of Labor Laws.) to enhance the research quality of students in Labor Courts and encourage students to write blogs and to provide dynamic and collaborative learning space both physically and virtually to learn more about laborlaws. At NLC students are groomed to conduct advance research in intellectual property rights and cyber law through the AETIP & CL cell (Advance Exploration, Training of Intellectual Property and Cyber Law) thereby giving them value added learning. As well our CCDL (Centre for Community development through law) aims towards creating a forum for learning from each other's experiences benefitting the student's community. We are the third generation of reforms of legal education which demands internationalization of legal education and thus, BVDU NLC has established International Collaborations and Programs with Universities, Companies/ firms at Hong Kong, Denmark, England & Wales, USA, Paris, Ylag, Malaysia, Switzerland and Thailand. The universal trend of Globalization of Legal Research is adopted and inculcated at NLC.

Students are motivated, trained and assisted to write research papers in national and international journals and blogs such as Jurist Blog of University of Pittsburg, School of Law, USA, and Books on Amazon and so on. We are committed to develop long term values of honesty and integrity for our students and make them global lawyers/advocates, attorneys, solicitors, jurists etc. Lawyers, I assert are social engineers having power and ability to bring positive change in the society. Hardwork is the key to success and hard work accompanied with patience bears the positive fruits of success.

I invite you to embark upon your spirited journey in the picturesque green lush and serene environment of Bharati Vidyapeeth and the Magical surroundings of Pune which is popularly known as the Oxford of the East
